Get Ready to Grow!

Join us for a discussion about the book "The 15 Invaluable Laws of Growth" by John C. Maxwell. Embracing these fifteen laws will give you a clear picture of your true passions and purpose — the foundation for lasting personal growth.

Learn the three laws that will help you:

- Grow your character
- Advance your career goals
- Enrich your relationships
- Enhance your life-management skills

About the Speaker:

Dan Heimler's 20 years of management experience in the tech field has allowed him the opportunity to work with individuals in a wide range of business environments. He has spent his professional life studying the principles of top motivational experts. Since 1996, he has focused his studies on the leadership principles of John Maxwell, which has brought him to where he is today: an executive coach who develops these timeless principles in others.
